Dr. Oxide 3 of Hearts

A Cult Classic in the Making

Eclectic Country Folk, Scruff Rock - a refreshing, raw and edgy departure from contemporary fare containing social, political and environmental commentary with a hint of humor. Infectious melodies that will leave listeners "Crying in the Rain" for more. Songs of love and hope for the body and mind.

Dr. Oxide, a one of kind singer-songwriter, defies categorization. His poetry touches all genres and speaks to the power of the earth and human spirit.

Commentary on the Songs

1. Alberta Skys

A tribute to the beauty and mystical power of the ordinary in nature

The common poplar trees are viewed by many as unwanted weeds, a menace to be removed – but in nature we are always surrounded by beauty, even in what seems mundane.

2. Bill Miner

A portrait of one of the West's last infamous outlaws – the gentleman bandit who coined the phrase "Hands-up!"

Bill Miner worked both sides of the border. In Canada he gained notoriety for "the first train robbery in Canadian history".

3. 3 of Hearts

A song of love lost and eternal hope

It is not uncommon to be entangled in love's triangle - receiving or dealing a "3 of hearts".

4. Crying In the Rain

A song about the love and pain we feel in broken relationships, and of renewal

"Just like the falling leaves" there is a natural cleansing power in love's traumatic cycles.

5. Cowbell Blues

Think Before You Eat

We live in the plastic age – one of genetically modified foods, mad cow, avian flu, hormone enhanced farmed fish. Let's rethink our approach to ensure that whatever our individual choices it is from a more environmentally sustainable and humane point of view.

6. Locked In Pop

Is there anything wrong with sometimes just zoning and being a couch potato?

Cause "it sure feels really nice to sit down to a cold pop" !

7. Too Much Shit in the Sea

There is no greater issue than the environment, our need to protect and enhance our habitat.

It is time that we become good stewards of our sacred planet earth.

8. Different Shoes

A whimsical look at the many walks we take in the journey through life.

"I have different shoes for different weather. Some are suede and some are leather."

9. Dog Song

A look at our capitalistic society through the eyes of one of society's much loved and best friends.

"Everybody try to stay calm."

0. Penguins

What are the suits doing? Where are they going in such a hurry? How does it affect our lives?

Do we really care?
